It sees a stunning 1.2 million lightning strikes per year. These fine webs are also known as eAAAAngel hair.eAAA so spiders have ruined pasta as well.A AFairy CirclesKnown to some as the eAAAfootprints of the gods.eAAA so-called eAAAairy circlesAAA are bald spots in vegetation across some areas of Namibia and South Africa. Then you look over and the glacier is bleeding. They doneAAAAt do blood transfusions and choose not to participate in war, as reported on JW.org. Because it can mummify you thanks to sodium carbonate deposits. Photo Courtesy: iStock Called eAAAthe most magical place in CanadaAAA by the CBC, the unique coloration is caused by high mineral content with calcium, sodium sulphates and magnesium sulphate. Photo Courtesy: iStock Fire whirls are typically fairly small and distinct from a so-called eAAAfirenado. eAAA which can be substantially larger in size (i.e. several football fields wide) and require intense heat beneath an ice-topped cloud that can cause deadly results, such as the one produced by the Carr Fire in California in 2018 that claimed the life of a firefighter.PeleAAAAs HairNamed after the Hawaiian volcano goddess, (not the Brazilian soccer legend) PeleeAAAAs hair is a very thin form of basaltic lava. And yet, they found these vents to be teeming with a species of mostly eyeless shrimp, Rimicaris hybisae. Often caused by brush fires, they require a unique combination of extreme heat and winds that whip up ash and flames into a frightening tangle. Photo Courtesy: iStock The visually stunning trees get their distinctive color from bark that is shed at different times. You get there and you caneAAAAt flush the toilet and definitely canAAAAt find a decent bagel. The worship services include prayer, reading scripture, studying the Bible, singing and preaching. This heat causes the air expand quickly, creating a shock wave that produces the sonic boom we know as thunder. As Atlas Obscura describes it, eAAAARings are forming in the ground. Scientists have studied the phenomenon and found that striking patterns appear in the murmurations, with birds creating alternating pockets of low and high density.A AGiantAAAAs CausewayThese might look like giant rolls of pennies clumped together, but theyeAAAAre actually formed by 40,000 interlocking hexagonal basalt columns in Northern Ireland. JehovaheAAAAs Witnesses believe in one true God, namely Jehovah, as stated on The Gospel Coalition website. Photo Courtesy: iStock Salar de Uyuni also creates a haven for optical-illusion photos and forced-perspective photography, as well as amazing reflection pools when water collects across the landscape. So, in the interest of safety, they intentionally set it on fire. But sometimes it rains spiders. But if you insist on subjecting yourself to such scorching desolation, swing by Racetrack Playa to see the mysterious sailing stones. Also known as snow rollers, this unusual phenomenon has been observed all
